The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Goodrich. Goodrich shows an upper cross portion (top n), and hinging means D,F,M.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Goodrich in view of Yemini et al. Goodrich shows the claimed sawhorse with the exception of the extenders. Yemni shows extenders. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Goodrich to comprise extenders, as taught by Yemini, to increase his supporting surface.

Claims 1-3,5-10 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yemini et al in view of Phipps et al. Yemini shows the claimed sawhorse with the exception of the claimed latching means. Phipps shows the claimed latching means. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Yemini to comprise a latching means, as taught by Phipps, in lieu of his, for maintaining his cross bar at selected positions.

Claims 4 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yemini and Phipps, as applied to claims 1 and 10 above, and further in view of ST. Martin et al. ST. Martin shows a retaining structure at 23,18,20. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Yemini for his latch, as taught by Phipps, to comprise a retaining structure, as taught by ST. Martin, for fixing the latch in the latched position.
